

UPDATE

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, Dr Banky is now offering telehealth consultations as an alternative for face-to-face consultations. Telehealth consultations are conducted via video conferencing, internet or telephone. This may include Facetime, Skype, Whatsapp video calls or through Doxy. As long as you have a mobile telephone, a computer or a land line, Dr Banky can perform a telehealth consultation with you.

Dr Banky is committed to continuing to treat his patients with dermatological conditions, thus easing the burden on GPs and emergency departments during the COVID-19 pandemic. Both new and existing patients can access telehealth consultations with Dr Banky.

Patients interested in a telehealth consultation will still require an appointment. Please call Dr Banky's office to determine whether your condition is appropriate for a telehealth consultation.

Dr Banky's clinics in Elsternwick and Mt Waverley are still open, and Dr Banky will continue to be available to see patients in person that cannot have a telehealth consultation.
